

Voter's Guide to Democratic Candidates for General Election 11/2/2010

Candidate information has been provided by the individual campaigns.

U.S. Senate

Joe Sestak, From Edgemont, U.S. Congressman

<http://joesestak.com/>

Joe Sestak is a former 3-star Navy Admiral who served our nation for 31 years and a Congressman with a record of dedication to Pennsylvania's working families. He's the leader we need in the U.S. Senate to change Washington and put principle over politics once and for all.

Governor

Dan Onorato, From Pittsburgh, Allegheny County Executive

<http://www.voteonorato.com/>

Allegheny County Executive Dan Onorato, a lifelong Pennsylvanian and graduate of Penn State and Pitt Law, is running for Governor because Pennsylvania's families need a more efficient and responsive government. He has the proven executive experience to create new jobs and bring real reform to Harrisburg.

Lieutenant Governor

Scott Conklin, From Philipsburg, State Representative for the 77th District, <http://www.scottconklin.net/>

During my years of public service, I have always tried to provide servant leadership to those who have given me the honor of electing me County Commissioner and then State Representative. This year, after hearing the public outcry to change our broken system of government, I am offering my candidacy for Lieutenant Governor of Pennsylvania.

U.S. House of Representatives

Michael Pipe, From State College, Assistant Manager at Five Guys Burgers and Fries,

<http://www.pipeforcongress.com/>

I am running to fight for those who are struggling to make ends meet. Many in Washington are more interested in their reelection than tackling the problems facing the country. If elected I will work for the people, not the Political Action Committees of Big Tobacco, oil companies or the health insurance industry.

PA House of Representatives

Scott Conklin, From Philipsburg, State Representative for the 77th District, <http://www.scottconklin.net/>

I am running for re-election to the House of Representatives so I can continue to work for you in Harrisburg. I want to continue to fight to reform our state government so we have fair redistricting, pass the state budget on time and have better accountability over campaign financing.

The Centre County Democratic Party welcomes all Democrats to its events and encourages them to join in activities to help elect Democrats to office. We have a Breakfast on the fourth Saturday of most months, featuring speakers on a changing variety of subjects. These Breakfasts move around the county to make it convenient for as many people as possible. We have dinners and potlucks every few months. We welcome people willing to talk with their neighbors about our candidates, through our Neighborhood Leader program. In addition, we have meetings most months on the second Tuesday night where we discuss the business of the Democratic party. Our website is updated regularly with information about these activities. Please feel very welcome to get involved!
